To Whom It May Concern:

We are contacting your organization to request support for the members of the California OSGeo Chapter Incubation Group. The California OSGeo Chapter Incubation Group is made up of OSGeo members that are working to form a chapter of the OSGeo to represent members of the open source geospatial community in California. (The OSGeo is an organization created to build and support the highest-quality open source geospatial software. See <http://www.osgeo.org/> for more information.)

The current focus of the California OSGeo Chapter Incubation Group is organizing representation of the OSGeo at various geospatial conferences in the state. We are currently seeking sponsors to assist with arrangements for the OSGeo booths at the Association of American Geographers annual conference and the California Geographic Society annual conference in 2009. Organizations that offer their support for an OSGeo booth at these conferences will be provided with an opportunity to publicize their sponsorship at the OSGeo conference booth.

All donations made to support this effort of the California OSGeo Chapter Incubation Group will be made directly to the OSGeo, and are tax deductible. For more information about the California OSGeo Chapter Incubation Group, the effort to represent the OSGeo at California conferences, or about the specific needs for this project please contact Landon Blake at (209) 992-0658 or lblake@ksninc.com.

Respectfully,

Landon Blake
